Chapter 3 Part IV
Documentary Materials

The reader will see that sometimes, in reproducing the statutory materials that follow, we have given section titles by the side (e.g. 1.a); sometimes we have given them all together at the beginning (e.g. 1.b); and sometimes we haven’t given them at all (e.g. 1.c). Where we have not given them at all, this is because no section titles were given in the materials reproduced. We have given them all at the beginning in the cases of the longer statutes, where significant space is saved by extracting the section titles and letting the statutory texts run across the whole page. We have left them at the side in the other cases, to give readers some sense of how the statutes are usually presented. Ideally the section titles should run along the outsides of pages, on the left on even-numbered pages and on the right on odd-numbered ones, but we have not taken the trouble to arrange this.

As elsewhere in this work, we have corrected (and in the cases of some words have standardised) spellings, and have also corrected other aspects of grammar and standardised the mode of presentation of the texts. See the Preface to Volumes I – V for further details.

279 Zamfara State’s Anti-Corruption Commission Law draws heavily on the Federal Corrupt Practices and Other Related Offences Act, No. 5 of 2000, Cap. C31 of LFN 2004, although it evidently has other sources as well which we have not traced. The annotations to the sections of Zamfara’s law which follow correlate its sections with those of the Corrupt Practices and Other Related Offences Act, where applicable, and note some but by no means all of the differences in their language. The Federal statute is referred to in the notes as “ICPC Act”.

292 Cf. ICPC Act §8, which however has two further subsections not included here.

293 Cf. ICPC Act §9.
CHAPTER 3: SANITIZING SOCIETY

(2) If in any proceedings for an offence under this section it is proved that property or any promise thereof, was given to a public officer or some other person at the instance of a public officer, by a person:

(a) holding or seeking to obtain a contract, licence, permit, employment or anything whatsoever from a Government department, public body or other organisation or institution in which that public officer is serving as such; or 294 The corresponding clause of the ICPC Act refers back to what are here subsections (1) and (2) of section 18, which makes more sense than the gazetted text.

295 Cf. ICPC Act §10.

296 Cf. ICPC Act §15. In the ICPC Act, all the language from the word ‘destroys’ to the phrase ‘or is privy to any such act’ forms subsection (a); there are then two further subsections as follow: “(b) makes, or is privy to making any false entry in any such book, document, account or electronic record; or (c) omits, or is privy to omitting, any material particular from any such book, document, account or electronic record,” – is guilty of an offence etc.

shall be guilty of an offence.

297 Cf. ICPC Act §16.
298 Cf. ICPC Act §17.
299 Cf. ICPC Act §22. In the gazetted version of Zamfara’s law the formatting of this section is badly garbled; we have corrected it here. ICPC Act includes four further subsections, three of which define other related offences and the last of which specifies the punishment for violation of subsection (1), which Zamfara has failed to do.
CHAPTER 3: SANITIZING SOCIETY

(2) Any public official who in the course of his official duties inflates the price of any goods or service above the prevailing market price or professional standards shall be guilty of an offence under this Law and shall on conviction be liable to imprisonment for a term of one year and indictment [sic: in addition] to a fine of the current price of the property.

(2) A person to whom an order has been given shall--

300 Subsection (1) of this section tracks ICPC Act §26(2); subsections (2)-(5) track ICPC Act §27(2)-(5). The gazetted version of Zamfara’s law clearly omits some language necessary to the sense of subsection (3); it is an open question however whether the first clause inserted in brackets was or was not intended to be included.

301 Cf. ICPC Act §28. Zamfara omits ICPC Act subsections (2), (4) and (7), and materially alters ICPC Act subsection (9) = Zamfara subsection (6).

(4) A person to whom an order or notice is given shall comply with such order or notice.

(5) An officer of the Commission examining a person under this Law, shall record in writing any statement [made by the person and the statement] so recorded shall be read over to the maker who on being satisfied that it is a true [record] of his statement shall sign same before a superior officer of the Commission; and where such person refuses to sign the record, the officer shall endorse thereon under his hand the fact of such refusal and the reason therefore, if any, stated by the person examined; and any person who shall write [for a person] who is an illiterate shall also write on such document his own name and address as the writer of the document.

(6) The records of an examination or written statement on oath or affirmation made pursuant to [sic] or any book, document or article produced or otherwise in the course of an examination or under a written statement on oath or affirmation made shall notwithstanding any written law or rule of law to the contrary, be admissible in evidence in any proceedings in any court.

(7) Any person who contravenes this section shall be guilty of an offence punishable with a term of imprisonment not exceeding four months.

27. Subject to the provisions of this Law the Commission may issue a summons directed to a person [complained against] to attend before the Commission for the purpose of being examined in relation to the direction [sic] or in relation to any other matter which may aid or facilitate the investigation of the allegation; and summons so issued shall state the substance of the complaint, and the time and place at which the inquiry is to be held.

28. Every summons issued by the Commission under this Law shall be in duplicate and signed by the Chairman or such officer as the Chairman may authorise to issue summons.

29. Every summons under this Law shall be served by an officer of the Commission in the manner prescribed in the Sheriffs and Civil Process Act and any other laws relating to the service [of process and the person effecting the service] shall have and exercise all the powers conferred by the law and any other law relating to the service of process.

30. Where the person summoned by the Commission is in the service of Government, the Commission may deliver the summons in duplicate to the Head of Department in which such person is employed for the purpose of its being served on that person and such officer shall thereupon cause the summons to be served on that person.

CHAPTER 3: SANITIZING SOCIETY

31. Where a summons has been served upon a person to whom it is addressed or is delivered to any other person, the person to whom it is addressed or delivered as the case may be, shall sign a receipt therefor on the duplicate, and where service is not effected by handing the summons to an individual but by some other method approved by this Law, the person effecting service shall endorse on the duplicate particulars of the method by which the service was effected.

32. A person required to sign a receipt on the back of the duplicate of the summons to the effect that he has received the summons who refuses to do so may be arrested by the person serving the summons and shall be guilty of an offence and upon conviction be liable to one month imprisonment or one thousand naira fine.

33. Where the Commission is satisfied that a summons directed to a person complained against or any person has been served and that person does not appear at the time and place appointed in the summons, the Commission shall have power to arrest and detain any such person, who shall be brought before a court of law within 48 hours.

34. 146

(1) Where it appears to the Chairman upon information and after such inquiry as he shall think necessary, that there is reasonable cause to suspect that in any place there is evidence of the commission of any offence under this Law, he may by written order direct an officer of the Commission to obtain a court order to—

(a) enter any premises and make search for, seize and take possession of any book, document or other articles evidencing the commission of such offence;
(b) inspect, make copies of, or take extras from any book, record or document;
(c) search any person who is in or on such premises, and for the purpose of such search detain such person and remove him to such place as may be necessary to facilitate such search and seize and detain any article found on such person;

(e) stop, search and seize any vehicle or conveyance.

(2) Whenever it is necessary so to do, an officer of the Commission exercising any power under subsection (1) shall obtain a warrant from a Sharia Court Judge or Magistrate to—

(a) break open any outer or inner door or window of any premises and enter thereto, or otherwise forcibly enter the premises and every part thereof;
(b) remove by force any obstruction to such entry, search, seizure or removal as he is empowered to effect; or
(c) detain any person found in or on any premises or in any conveyance searched under subsection (1), or until such premises or conveyance has been searched.

(3) No person shall be searched under this section or under any section except by a person who is of the same gender as the person to be searched.

306 Cf. ICPC Act §33.
307 Cf. ICPC Act §34.
308 Cf. ICPC Act §35.
309 The ICPC Act allowed detention “until the person complies with the summons”; this was found unconstitutional in Attorney-General of Ondo State v. Attorney-General of the Federation (2002) 9 NWLR 222 S.C.; Zamfara State has correct this defect in the Federal Act.
310 Cf. ICPC Act §36.
35. If in the course of an investigation into an offence under this Law any officer of the Commission has reasonable grounds to suspect that any movable or immovable property is the subject matter of an offence or evidence relating to the offence, he shall seize such property.

(2) A list of all movable or immovable property seized pursuant to subsection (1) and of the place in which they are respectively found shall be prepared by the officer of the Commission effecting the seizure and signed by him.

(3) A copy of the list referred to in subsection (2) shall be served on the owner of such property or on the person from whom the property was seized as soon as possible.

36. (1) Where any movable property is seized under this Law, the seizure shall be effected by removing the movable property from the custody or control of the person from whom it is seized and placing it under the custody of such person or authority and at such place as an officer of the Commission may determine.

(2) Where it is not practicable, or it is otherwise not desirable, to effect removal of any property under subsection (1), the officer referred to in that subsection may leave it at the premises in which it is seized under the custody of such person as he may detail for the purpose.

(3) When any movable property has been seized under this Law, an officer who effected the seizure may, in his discretion—

(a) temporarily return the movable property to the owner thereof, or to the person from whose possession, custody or control it was seized, or to such person as may be entitled thereto, subject to such terms and conditions as may be [imposed, and subject, in any case, to] sufficient security being furnished to ensure that the movable property shall be surrendered on demand being made by the officer who authorised the release or any other officer of the Commission and that such terms and conditions, if any, shall be complied with.

(b) return the movable property to the owner thereof, or to the person from whose possession, custody or control it was seized, or to such person as may be entitled thereto, with liberty for the person to whom the movable property is so returned to dispose of the property, such return being subject to security being furnished in an amount not less than an amount which represents the present market value of such property on the date on which it is returned.

(4) Where any person to whom movable property is temporarily returned [under subsection (3)(a) of this section] fails to surrender such property on demand or to comply with any term or condition imposed under that [subsection]—

(a) the security furnished in respect of such property shall be forfeited; and

(b) that person shall be guilty of an offence and shall on conviction be liable to a fine of not less than two times the amount of the security furnished by him, and to imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year.

(5) Where any movable property seized is liable to decay or deterioration, or is property which cannot be maintained without difficulty, or which it is not practicable to maintain,

311 Cf. ICPC Act §37.
312 CF ICPC Act §38.
CHAPTER 3: SANITIZING SOCIETY

and which cannot be dealt with [under subsection (3) of this section], an officer of the Commission may sell or cause such property to be sold at the prevailing market value and shall hold the proceeds of the sale after deducting therefrom the costs and expenses of the maintenance and of the [sale of the property, to abide with the] result of any proceedings under this Law.

37. Subject to such limitation as is provided under this Law, every person required by an officer of the Commission to give information on any subject which it is the duty of such officer to inquire into [under] this Law and which it is in that person’s statutory power to give, shall be legally bound to give information, failing which he shall be guilty of an offence on conviction liable to imprisonment for one month or a fine of five thousand naira.

38. Any person who—

(a) refuses any officer of the Commission access to any premises, or fails [to submit] to a search by a person authorised by the Commission to search him under this Law;

(b) assaults or obstructs any [officer of the Commission or any] person [authorised by the Commission in the execution of his duty] under this Law;

(c) fails to produce to or conceals from an officer of the Commission any book, document or article, in relation to which such officer has reasonable grounds for suspecting or believing that an offence under this Law or any other law prohibiting corruption has been or is being committed, or which is liable [to seizure] under this Law;

(d) rescues or endeavours to rescue or cause to be rescued any person who has been duly [arrested or anything which has been duly] seized; or

(e) destroys anything to prevent the seizure thereof, or the securing of the thing, shall be guilty of an offence punishable with imprisonment for one month or option of five naira [sic] fine.

39. (1) Every offence under this Law shall be a bailable offence for the propose of the Criminal Procedure Code.

(2) Every person arrested under subsection (1) may be released from custody on his executing a bond with sureties, as an officer of the Commission may require.

(3) Any person who has been released from custody may be re-arrested without warrant by any officer of the Commission—

(a) if such officer has reasonable grounds for believing that any condition on or subject to which [such] person was released [or otherwise admitted to bail has been broken]; or

(b) on being notified in writing by the [surety or] sureties of such person that such person has broken or is likely to break any condition on or subject to which [such] person was released and that the surety wishes to be relieved of his obligation as a surety.

313 Cf. ICPC Act §40.
314 Cf. ICPC Act §41.
315 Cf. ICPC Act §42(1)-(3). The formatting of Zamfara’s §39 is garbled in the gazetted version, this has been corrected here.
40. Any person arrested under this Law who is not released on bail shall, without unreasonable delay, and in any case within 48 hours (excluding the time for any necessary journey) be produced before the court.

41. (1) If it appears to the court that any condition on or subject to which such person was released or otherwise admitted to bail has been or is likely to be broken, the court may—

(a) remand such person in custody; or

(b) admit such person to bail on the same condition or on other conditions as it thinks fit.

(2) Where a person who is arrested for an offence under this Law is serving a sentence of imprisonment or is in detention under any law relating to preventive detention, or is otherwise in lawful custody, he shall, upon an order in writing by an officer of the Commission be produced before such officer or before any other officer of the Commission for the purpose of investigation and for such purpose he may be kept in lawful custody for a period not exceeding five days.

(3) A person who is detained in lawful custody under subsection (2) or otherwise under any other written law may, at any time, be made available to an officer of the Commission for the purpose of investigation, or may be taken to any other place for the purpose of searching the place, seizing any property, or identifying any person [or for any other purpose related to the investigation].

(4) The period during which a person is under lawful custody under subsection (2) of this section shall count towards the period of his imprisonment, detention, or other custody.

42. (1) Where in any proceedings against any person for an offence under this Law it is proved that any gratification has been accepted or agreed to be accepted, obtained or attempted to be [obtained, solicited, given or agreed to be] solicited or given, promised or offered, by or to the accused, the gratification shall be presumed to have been corruptly accepted or agreed to be [accepted, obtained or attempted to be obtained, solicited, given or agreed to be solicited or given, promised or offered as an inducement or a reward for or on account of the matters set out in the particulars of the offence, until the contrary is proved.

(2) Where in any proceedings against any person for an offence under this Law or any other law prohibiting corruption it is proved that such person has [accepted] or agreed to accept, obtained or attempted to obtain any gratification, such person shall be presumed to have done so as a motive or reward for the matters set out in the particulars of the offence, until the contrary is proved.

\[316\] Cf. ICPC Act §42(4) (part). The gazetted version of the Zamfara Act again garbles things: part of ICPC Act §42(4) is put in Zamfara §40 and part in §41(1), and the division is made in such a way that §40 is left making little sense; the language has been reorganised (but not changed) here.

\[317\] Cf. ICPC Act §42(4) (part = what is here put as subsection (1)) and 42(5)-(7).

\[318\] In the gazetted version of Zamfara’s Law this subsection (4) is run together incomprehensively with subsection (3); it is only by looking at ICPC Act §42 that one sees what was intended.

\[319\] Subsections (1)-(3) of §42 are copied from ICPC Act §53(1)-(3); subsections (4) and (5) are copied from ICPC Act §56(2)-(3).
(3) Where in any proceeding against any person for an offence under this Law or any other law prohibiting corruption it is proved that such person has accepted or attempted to obtain any valuable thing without consideration or for a consideration which he knows to be inadequate, such person shall be presumed to have done so with such knowledge as to the circumstances set out in the particulars of the offence, until the contrary is proved.

In any trial on inquiry by a court into any offence under this Law, any statement, whether the statement amounts to a confession or not, and whether oral or in writing, made at any time, whether before or after the person is charged and whether or not in the course of an investigation, and whether wholly or partly in answer to a question, by the accused person to or in the hearing of any officer of the Commission, whether or not interpreted to him by any officers of the Commission or any other person concerned or not in the arrest of that person, shall, notwithstanding any written law or rule of law to the contrary, be admissible in evidence at the trial.] 320

Provided that the officer who procured such statement shall make himself available at the trial for the purpose of cross-examination.

(4) No statement made under subsection (1) [sic: referring to the subsection inserted immediately above] shall be admissible or used as provided for in that subsection if the making of the statement appears to the court to have been caused by any inducement, threat or promise having reference to the charge against the person, proceeding from a person in authority and sufficient in the opinion of the court to give that person grounds which would appear to him reasonable [for supposing] that [by making it] he would gain any advantage or avoid any evil [of a temporal nature in reference to the proceedings against him.

(5) Where any person is arrested or is informed that he may be prosecuted for any offence under this Law, he shall be served with notice in writing, which shall be explained to him, to the following effect—

“You have been arrested on the allegation concerning .............. and whatever you say or write may be used in any court of law hereafter.”

43. (1) 321 Where any document which is to be used in [any] proceedings against any person for an offence under this Law is in a language other than the English language, [a translation of such document into the English language] shall be admissible, where the translation is accompanied by a certificate of the person who translated the document, setting out that it is a true and faithful translation and the translation has been done by such person at the instance of the Chairman or an officer of the Commission.

(2) 322 The Chief Judge and the Grand Kadi of the State shall assign Principal District Court and Upper Sharia Court Judges by order under their hand, as they shall deem appropriate to hear and determine all cases of bribery, corruption, fraud or other related offences arising under this Law or any other law prohibiting fraud, bribery or corruption.

320 What is inserted here is the text of ICPC Act §56(1), which appears to have been inadvertently omitted from the gazetted version of Zamfara’s Law – except for the proviso to it which follows the inserted text. The subsection that follows the proviso in §42 of Zamfara’s Law – numbered (4) – refers to the omitted subsection, further evidence that it was meant to be included.

321 Subsection 43(1) copies ICPC Act §59(1).

322 Subsection 43(2) adapts ICPC Act §61(3).
44. (1) Where any complaint made by any officer of the Commission states that the complaint is made in consequence of information [received by the officer making the complaint, the information] referred to in the complaint and the identity of the person from whom such information is received shall be secret between [the officer who made the complaint and] the person who gave the information, and everything contained in such information, the identity of the person who gave the information [and all other circumstances relating to the information,] including the place where it was given, shall not be disclosed in public but only to the trial judge and the defence lawyer in attendance in any civil, criminal or other proceedings in any court or tribunal.

(2) Any person who gives the information referred to in subsection (1) knowing the information to be false shall be guilty of an offence and shall on conviction be liable to imprisonment for a term not less than one month or a fine not exceeding N1,000.

Provided that subsection (1) and (2) shall not apply to any investigation or prosecution for any offence arising from any breach of the provisions of this subsection.

45. No legal proceeding, civil or criminal, shall be instituted against any officer of the Commission or any other person assisting such officer for any act which is done in good faith by such officer or other person.

46. Notwithstanding any other written law to the contrary, the provisions of this Law shall apply to [a prescribed offence regardless of whether the prosecution or] any other proceedings in respect of such offence are instituted or taken by an officer of the Commission [or] any other officer having power to investigate, prosecute or take any proceedings in respect of such offence.

47. A person convicted for an offence under this Law for which no penalty is specifically provided shall be liable to a fine not exceeding N10,000 or to imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year or both.

48. A person convicted for an offence under this Law or any other law prohibiting bribery or corruption shall have right of appeal to the High Court or Sharia Court of Appeal within thirty days.

49. The Zamfara State Anti-Corruption Commission (Establishment) Law No. 17 of 2000 is hereby repealed.

b. Two documents from the Zamfara Anti-Corruption Commission

(i) PUBLIC ANNOUNCEMENT ON BRIBERY AND CORRUPTION

Collecting bribes and engaging in corruption are violations of the rights of the people. Those who do these things bring enmity and dishonour on themselves in this world and in the hereafter, when the phrase “if only I had known” will have no place. We therefore call on all Muslims not to give or collect bribes and to avoid corruption on all its ramifications. Nor should you even help anybody in giving or collecting bribe, whether you are a chief, a common citizen, a civil servant, or a political appointee. Do your best to assist in the fight against this most unfortunate practice among our people. If you find yourself in a situation where you are asked to give a bribe, get in touch immediately with the Zamfara State Anti-Corruption Commission, Second Floor, Umaru Mai Littafai House, Zaria Road, Gusau, or call 203700 or 262124. You will definitely see a quick result.

This announcement is from the Zamfara State Anti-Corruption Commission, under the Chairmanship of Alhaji Muhammad Dansanda Maru.

(ii) REPORT ON VISITS OF THE COMMISSION TO EMIRATES IN THE STATE: 7TH – 15TH MARCH 2005

In the performance of its statutory functions, this Commission has laid down the following guidelines, with the aims of correcting the menace of corruption in our society, of ensuring peaceful co-existence among the people, and of fostering economic development. The general slogan is: DO NOT COLLECT AND DO NOT GIVE.

1. Bribery and corruption must be eliminated from every transaction.
2. The execution of all contracts awarded, whether by the State or Local Governments, must be closely monitored to ensure proper completion according to the terms of the contract.
3. The imposition and collection of “commissions” from citizens of the State, particularly by Ward Heads and District Heads, must be avoided.
4. Closer working relationships between farmers and cattle-rearers should be established, in order that there may be peace and harmony among them; this will also bring about an improved financial position in the State.

328 This announcement was sponsored by the Zamfara State Anti-Corruption Commission and read out from time to time, around the time it was prepared, on Zamfara State Radio and Television (ZRTV).
329 Members of the Zamfara State Anti-Corruption Commission made a tour of the State’s seventeen Emirates on the dates indicated, meeting in each case with the Emirate Councils. This document was distributed and discussed during those meetings. Per interview with the Secretary of the Anti-Corruption Commission, Gusau, 11th May 2007, by A. Garba.
The practice according to which more powerful people deprive the less powerful of their farmlands by force, so that the lands may be kept, given out as gifts, sold, or turned into burtali (cattle tracks), must be avoided.

Selfishness and greediness among public servants, in all their ramifications, must be eliminated, in order to ensure justice and fairness.

It is not correct to connive with the police or with court staff to deny the common man – such as the Fulani – his rights, or to cheat him.

It is also an offence for a court staff or a District Head to benefit unlawfully from the property of a deceased person, and so on.

Emirs should cultivate the habit of visiting schools and hospitals regularly in order to know the conditions there and to advise the Government correctly.

The issue of ensuring the security of the people is a gigantic work. Authorities must be vigilant of strangers coming into the State, in order to reduce the number of undesirable elements.

Where bail is to be granted, it is free. Therefore, it is an offence to give or collect money for bail.

Payment of all types of debts should be ensured. Those who are unable to pay should not borrow more. This is because payment of just debts is an act of worship in Islam.

The function of this Commission is to work for the achievement of these goals. We call for the support of the Emirs in this important work. We need your support and co-operation to succeed in this effort.

Wassalam.

A LAW TO ESTABLISH ZAMFARA STATE PUBLIC COMPLAINTS COMMISSION

Arrangement of sections:

1. Establishment of the Commission.
2. Appointment and tenure of office.
3. Removal of Chairman and members.

Zamfara State’s Public Complaints Commission Law closely tracks the Federal Public Complaints Commission Act, enacted by Decree No. 31 of 1975, included as Cap. 377 of the 1990 LFN and now as Cap. P37 of the 2004 LFN. The annotations to the sections of Zamfara’s law which follow below correlate the sections of the two statutes and note some but by no means all of the differences in their language. The Federal statute is referred to in the notes as “PCC Act”.

For this list we have extracted the section titles from the gazetted version of the law; we do not repeat the section titles below.
CHAPTER 3: SANITIZING SOCIETY

4. Remuneration of members.
5. Prohibition of holding any office of remuneration.
7. Restrictions.
8. Recommendations after investigation.
9. Offences and penalties.
10. Meetings and quorum.
11. Votes.
12. Committees.
13. Resignation of member.
14. Power to summon persons.
15. Immunity from legal process.
16. Interpretation.
17. Short title.
18. Commencement.

BE IT ENACTED by the House of Assembly of Zamfara State as follows:

1. (1) There shall be established a Commission to be known as Zamfara State Public Complaints Commission (hereinafter referred to as the “Commission”) which shall consist of a Chairman and five other Permanent Commissioners.

   (2) The Commission may establish offices in the thirty-four Local Government Areas of the State.

2. (1) The Chairman and five other Permanent Commissioners, [of] whom one shall be a legal practitioner, shall be persons of proven integrity to be appointed by the Governor.

   (2) Subject to subsection (1) of this section the Chairman and the Permanent Commissioners shall hold office for a term of four years in the first instance and may be eligible for re-appointment.

3. The Chairman or any Commissioner may at any time be removed from his office or appointment by the Governor for inability to discharge his duties.

4. There shall be paid to the Chairman and other Commissioners such remuneration and allowances as the Governor may from time to time direct.

5. A Chairman or any other Commissioner shall not while holding office hold any other office of emolument whether in the public service or elsewhere.

6. [body to which Commissioners are responsible] 338

333 Cf. PCC Act §1.
334 Cf. PCC Act §2(1) and (2). In the case of the Federal Public Complaints Commission, the Commissioners are appointed by the National Assembly (not the President), to which they are responsible (PCC Act §5(1)) and by whom they may be removed (§2(3)). In Zamfara State, by contrast, the Commissioners are appointed and removable by the Governor, not the House of Assembly.
335 Cf. PCC Act §2(3) (National Assembly may remove Federal Commissioners).
336 Cf. PCC Act §2(4).
337 Cf. PCC Act §2(7).

154

A Commissioner shall have power to investigate either on his own initiative or following complaints lodged before the Commission by any person, any administrative action taken by any Department or Ministry of the State Government, or Local Government or such other Government agencies and parastatals.

For the purposes of this Law:

(a) the Commission may determine the manner by which complaints are to be lodged;

(b) the Chairman shall have access to all information necessary for the efficient performance of his duties under this Law and for this purpose may visit and inspect any premises belonging to any person or body mentioned under this Law;

(c) every Commissioner shall ensure that administrative action by any person mentioned under this Law will not result in the commission of any act of injustice against any citizen of the State or any other person resident in the State and for that purpose he shall investigate with special care administrative acts which are or appear to be:

(i) contrary to any law or regulation;
(ii) mistaken in law or arbitrary in the ascertainment of fact;
(iii) unreasonable, unfair, oppressive or inconsistent with the general functions of administrative organs;
(iv) improper in motivation or based on irrelevant considerations;
(v) unclear or inadequately explained; or
(vi) otherwise objectionable.

Where concurrent complaints are lodged with more than one Commissioner, the Chairman shall decide which Commissioner shall deal with the matter and his decision thereon shall be final.

The Chairman, Permanent Commissioners and the staff of the Commission shall maintain secrecy in respect of matters before it by reason of source or content, however a Commissioner may, in any report made by him, disclose such matters as in his opinion ought to be disclosed in order to establish grounds for his conclusions and recommendations.

338 PCC Act §5(1) provides: “All Commissioners shall be responsible to the National Assembly but the Chief Commissioner shall be responsible for coordinating the work of all other Commissioners.”
339 Cf. PCC Act §5(2). The investigative powers of the Federal PCC are of course far broader than those of Zamfara State’s.
340 Cf. PCC Act §5(3).
341 The Zamfara law omits PCC Act §5(3)(b): “any Commissioner may decide in his absolute discretion whether, and if so, in what manner he should notify the public of his action or intended action in any particular case.”
342 Cf. PCC Act §5(4).
343 Cf. PCC Act §5(5).
CHAPTER 3: SANITIZING SOCIETY

[freedom of Commissioners from direction or control of other persons and authorities]344

(5) 345 It shall be the duty of any body or person required by a Commissioner to furnish information pursuant to [subsection (2)(b)]346 of this section to comply with such requirement not later than fifteen days from receipt thereof.

(6) [The Commission shall have the power:]347

(a) to receive and inquire [into] any public complaint concerning any public officer;
(b) to organise workshops, seminars, public campaigns and enlightenment in the media;
(c) to ensure prompt and proper compliance with Government relevant rules, regulations and circulars;
(d) to receive complaints submitted through the Local Government offices;
(e) to reverse, confirm or vary the decisions or findings of the Local Government offices; and
(f) to do any other things for the proper discharge of its powers.

7. 348 (1) A Commissioner shall not investigate any matter:

(a) that is clearly outside his terms of reference; or
(b) which is pending before the State House of Assembly or the Executive Council of the State; or
(c) which is pending before any court of law in the State; or
(d) relating to anything done or purported to be done in respect of any member of the Armed Forces in Nigeria or the Nigeria Police Force under the Nigerian Army Act, the Navy Act, the Air Force Act, or the Police Act, as the case may be except where the case involves members of these forces with an individual.349

[three further restrictions in PCC Act]350

344 The Zamfara law omits PCC §5(6), which provides: “In the exercise of the powers conferred upon a Commissioner by this section, the Commissioner shall not be subject to the direction or control of any other person or authority.”
345 Cf. PCC Act §5(7).
346 The gazetted version of the Zamfara law has “subsection (6)(c)” here, but this makes no sense, and from comparison with the Federal PCC act it is clear that the reference should be to Zamfara’s subsection (2)(b).
347 Subsection 6(6) is missing from the Zamfara law, and then what are here shown as sub-subsections 6(6)(a)-(f) are given as subsections 6(7)-(12). It seems clear however that the arrangement should be as given here, with some such language as we have given for the introductory part of subsection 6(6). None of this subsection is in the PCC Act.
348 Cf. PCC Act §6.
349 PCC Act omits “except where the case involves members of these forces with an individual”.
350 PCC Act includes three further restrictions: “(e) in which the complainant has not, in the opinion of the Commissioner, exhausted all available legal or administrative procedures; (f) relating to any act or thing done before 29th July 1975 in or respect of which the complaint is lodged later than twelve months after the date of the act or thing done from which the complaint arose; (g) in which the complainant has no personal interest.”
(2) In any case where a Commissioner decides not to investigate a complaint he shall state his reasons therefor.

8.351 (1) The Commission may recommend to the appropriate person or responsible administrative agency after due investigation of any complaint any of the following steps:

(a) that a further consideration of the matter be made;
(b) that a modification or cancellation of the offending administrative or other act be effected;
(c) that an alteration of a regulation or ruling be effected;
(d) that full reasons behind a particular administrative or other act be given.

(2) Where appropriate, the Commission may refer cases where it feels that existing laws or administrative regulations or procedures are inadequate to the State Assembly or the Governor or to any other appropriate person or body.

(3) In every case where the Commission discovers that a crime may have been committed by any person, it shall report its findings to the appropriate authority or recommend that that person be prosecuted.

(4) In every case where the Commission is of the opinion that the conduct of any person is such that disciplinary action against him be taken, it shall make a report in that regard to the appropriate authority which shall take further action as may be necessary in the circumstances.

9.352 (1) Any complaint lodged before the Commission shall not be made public by any person except a Commissioner and any person who contravenes the provisions of this subsection shall be guilty of an offence and shall be liable on conviction to a fine of ₦10,000 or imprisonment for six months or to both such fine and imprisonment.

(2) If any person required to furnish information under this Law fails to do so or in purported compliance with such requirement to furnish information knowingly or recklessly makes any statement which is false in a material particular, he shall be guilty of an offence and liable on conviction to a fine of ₦10,000 or imprisonment for six months or to both.

REPORT OF ZAMFARA STATE PUBLIC COMPLAINTS COMMISSION
    SINCE ITS INCEPTION: 2003-2005

Introduction

Zamfara State Law No. 19 of 2003, assented to by Executive Governor Alhaji Ahmad Sani, Yariman Bakura, on 28th July 2003, establishes a Public Complaints Commission for the State.

The importance of the functions of the Public Complaints Commission are obvious. It ensures peaceful co-existence among the people by resolving conflicts related to various acts of dishonesty and the use of superior strength to violate people’s rights among others.\textsuperscript{358}

History reveals that Nigeria’s first Public Complaints Commission was established in Kaduna State in 1975. A year later, the then Federal Military Government enacted a decree which established a Public Complaints Commission for the entire Federation.\textsuperscript{359} Today this type of Commission can be found not only in Nigeria but in other African countries and other countries in the world. Public Complaints Commissions have become so popular because of their important function of resolving conflicts through mediation rather than through adversarial procedures resulting in judgments. This helps to reduce the caseloads of the courts.

The role of leaders in entertaining people’s complaints is well entrenched in Sharia. It was reported that the Messenger of Allah (SAW) himself listened to people’s complaints up to the period of the sahabat. During the rule of Umar bin Khattab a special department for the purpose of entertaining people’s complaints was established. Umar made this department to be directly under his control. Subsequent Islamic governments have made provisions for the entertainment of people’s complaints right up to the present.

Here in Zamfara State, this type of Commission was first set up as a division of the State’s Anti-Corruption Commission. Later, the Public Complaints Commission was \textsuperscript{357} Cf. PCC Act §12. In PCC Act, the last words of subsection (3) are “the finality of any administrative act.”

\textsuperscript{358} “…dinke duk barakar da ke tasowa tsakanin su ga abinda ya shafi zalunce-zalunce, nuna fin karfi ta dannen hakki da makamantan su.”

\textsuperscript{359} In fact the Federal Public Complaints Commission was established by Decree No. 31 of 1975 and the Commission began its work that same month. See p. 16 supra.
CHAPTER 3: SANITIZING SOCIETY

separated from the Anti-Corruption Commission and established under its own statute. This was as a result of the importance of its functions. The Commission’s aim is to completely eradicate dishonesty and oppression among the people and to create an atmosphere that is in accordance with the Sharia. That is why the Commission commenced its activities immediately after its establishment and inauguration. In its first year of operation it gained popularity throughout the State.

The first factor contributing to its success was to have people of integrity as its leaders. Their commitment and perseverance in the discharge of their duties made it possible for the Commission to achieve a lot within a short time.

For instance, within two years of its inception, the Commission received 1288 complaints and disposed of 421 raising a variety of different issues. Out of this, it succeeded in resolving 278 cases, sent 85 cases to other agencies, and the rest were either stricken out or withdrawn by the complainant.

Of the 421 complaints disposed of, 115 cases were on debt, another 115 cases related to land and farm disputes, 76 involved disputes with various departments of Government, and 7 bordered on different Sharia-related issues.\(^{360}\)

The Commission succeeded in recovering people’s claims of about thirty-two million, one hundred and twenty five thousand, five hundred and seventy five naira (₦32,125,575.00) from various departments of Government (both State and Local), organisations, and individuals. This amount consisted of ₦10,993,075.00 cash and different items estimated at ₦21,132,500.00. For further details see the pages attached.

c. The Sharia Penal Codes on corruption and abuse of office

As with the Penal Code of 1960, the Sharia Penal Codes all define and prescribe punishments for a variety of crimes which, if committed by public servants, might, in particular cases, also be instances of corruption or abuse of office. As set forth in the Harmonised Sharia Penal Code (see Chapter 4), these include groups of sections on:

- In the chapter on HUDUD AND HUDUD-RELATED OFFENCES:
  - Theft §§143-47
  - Robbery §§151-54
  - Extortion §§155-59
  - Criminal Misappropriation §§160-62
  - Criminal Breach of Trust §§163-67
  - Receiving Stolen Property §§168-71
  - Cheating §§172-177

- In the chapter on TA’AZIR OFFENCES:
  - Criminal Intimidation §§240-242
  -Forgery §§251-260
  - Screening of Offenders §§338-341
  - Fraudulent Dealings with Property §§345-48
  - Miscellaneous Offences §§349-353 including giving false information respecting an offence, taking gift to help recover stolen property, and influencing the course of justice.

The most interesting variation in these sections, among all the codes, is Kano’s treatment of criminal breach of trust by a public servant or by a banker, merchant or agent, §167 in the Harmonised Sharia Penal Code. Kano puts this section under the heading of Theft and treats it thus:

134B. (1) Whoever is a public servant or a staff of a private sector including bank or company connives with somebody or some other people or himself and stole public funds or property under his care or somebody under his jurisdiction he shall be punished with amputation of his right hand wrist and sentence of imprisonment of not less than five years and stolen wealth shall be confiscated.

(2) If the money or properties stolen are mixed with another different wealth it will all be confiscated until all monies and other properties belonging to the public are recovered. If the confiscated amount and stolen properties are not up to the amount the whole wealth shall be confiscated and he will be left with some amount to sustain himself.

The codes also define and punish the following offences related specifically to public servants:

- Breach of Official Trust §§272-73
- Public servant taking gratification in respect of official act §289
- Taking gratification in order to influence public servant §290
- Abetment by public servant of offence mentioned in section 290 §291
- Offering or giving gratification to public servant §292
DOCUMENTARY MATERIALS: CORRUPTION

- Public servant obtaining valuable thing without consideration from person concerned in proceeding or business transacted by such public servant §293
- Offering or giving valuable thing without consideration §294
- Third person profiting by gratification §295
- Public servant dishonestly receiving money or property not due §296
- Public servant disobeying direction of law with intent to cause injury or to save person from punishment or property from forfeiture §297
- Public servant framing incorrect document with intent to cause injury §298
- Public servant in judicial proceeding acting contrary to law §299
- Wrongful committal or confinement by public servant §300
- Public servant omitting to arrest or aiding escape §301
- Public servant negligently omitting to arrest or permitting to escape §302
- Public servant causing danger by omitting to perform duty §303
- Abandonment of duty by public servant §304
- Public servant unlawfully purchasing property §305

Borno State’s Repeals and Savings Provisions Law and Yobe State’s Prohibition of Certain un-Islamic Practices Law both repeal the old Liquor Law and enact new provisions on the subject of alcohol, and all but one of the Local Government bye-laws also regulate liquor or dealings in it.

369 Instead of ‘indigene’, 1963 defines ‘native of a prohibited area’; and wherever this statute subsequently has ‘indigene’, the 1963 statute had ‘native’: this will not be subsequently noted. ‘Native of a prohibited area’ was defined as “any person one of whose parents was a member of any tribe indigenous to a prohibited area as declared in section 5, and the descendants of such persons; provided that where a tribe occupies land both within and without a prohibited area this definition shall apply only to the part of the tribe which occupies land within such prohibited area”.

\textsuperscript{373} 1963 omits “other than the provisions of section 53”.

\textsuperscript{374} 1963: subsection (a) exempts native liquor, and in a footnote says: “See the Native Authority Law (Cap. 77) and the Native Liquor (Townships and Certain Areas) Law (Cap. 79).” §2 of the Native Authority Law defined ‘native liquor’ as “palm-wine and any kind or description of fermented liquor usually made by natives of Nigeria or of the adjacent territories”; §38(57) then gave Native Authorities the power to make rules “prohibiting, restricting or regulating the manufacture, distillation, sale, transport, distribution, supply, possession and consumption of native liquor”. (a) with caning of one hundred lashes if unmarried, and where the offender is a man shall also be liable to imprisonment for a term of one year; or 457 Copied from the Harmonised Sharia Penal Code Annotated, see Chapter 4. In the notes that follow “PC” refers to the Penal Code of 1960 and the names of states refer to their Sharia Penal Codes.

458 Compare PC §§387 and 388: “Whoever, being a [§387: man; §388: woman] subject to any native law or custom in which extra-marital sexual intercourse is recognised as a criminal offence, has sexual intercourse with a person who is not and whom [he; she] knows or has reason to believe is not [his wife; her husband] [§387: such sexual intercourse not amounting to the offence of rape] is guilty of the offence of adultery and shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to two years or with fine or with both.”

127. A man is said to commit rape who, save in the case referred in subsection (2), has sexual intercourse with a woman in any of the following circumstances:

(c) with her consent, when her consent has been obtained by putting her in fear al-mithli) and other damages to be determined by the court.

[Explanation:]

Kebbi: “if married and the marriage consummated”.
Gombe omits the explanation.
Kano and Katsina omit this excepting clause in subsection (1), but nevertheless include the exception as subsection (2).
PC: “when she is under fourteen years”. Bauchi: “under the age of maturity”. Kaduna: “under the age of taklif”.
PC adds: “if she has attained to puberty”.
PC omits subsections (a)-(c), punishing rape “with imprisonment for life or for any less term and shall also be liable to fine.”
Bauchi: “imprisonment for a term which may extend to fourteen years in a location other than his domicile”. Kano and Katsina: “imprisonment which may extend to life imprisonment”.
Only Kaduna includes, as here, “and other damages to be determined by the court”.
Kano and Katsina have the following explanation here: “The conditions for proving the

(2) Whoever has anal coitus with his wife shall be punished with caning which may extend to fifty lashes.\textsuperscript{473}

(1) Whoever being a man, has sexual intercourse with a woman who is and whom he knows or has reason to believe to be his daughter, his grand-daughter, his mother or any other of his female ascendants or descendants, his sister or the daughter of his sister or brother or his paternal or maternal aunt has committed the offence of incest.

\textsuperscript{470}PC omits the separate offence of sodomy, presumably including it under “Unnatural offences”: “Whoever has carnal intercourse against the order of nature with any man, woman or animal shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to fourteen years and shall also be liable to fine. Explanation: Mere penetration is sufficient to constitute the carnal intercourse necessary to the offence described in this section.”

\textsuperscript{471}Only Kaduna and Yobe have this same language. All other states: “Whoever has carnal intercourse against the order of nature with any man or woman is said to commit the offence of sodomy.” Kano and Katsina qualify this: “with any man or woman through her rectum”. All states except Kaduna also add the following proviso: “Except that whoever is compelled by the use of force or threats [Sokoto: of force or in fear of death or grievous hurt or fear of any other serious injury] or without his consent to commit that act of sodomy [Kano and Kaduna: with another shall not be the subject] [all others: upon the person of another or be the subject] of the act of sodomy nor shall he be deemed to have committed the offence.” Kebbi also adds the following: “PROVE: 1. Sound mind; 2. Self-confession; 3. Four male witnesses in the act of sodomy who shall be trustworthy Muslims.”

\textsuperscript{472}Only Yobe is as here. Kaduna, Katsina and Kebbi: “Whoever commits the offence of sodomy shall be punished with stoning to death (\textit{rajm}).”Bauchi adds: “or by any other means decided by the state.” Gombe, Jigawa, Kano and Zamfara: “Whoever commits the offence of sodomy shall be punished: (a) with caning of 100 lashes if unmarried and shall also be liable to imprisonment for a term of one year, or (b) if married [Kano: or has previously been married] with stoning to death (\textit{rajm}).” Sokoto: “shall be punished (a) with stoning to death; (b) if the act is committed by a minor on an adult person the adult person shall be punished by way of \textit{ta’azir} which may extend to 100 lashes and minor with correctional punishment.”

\textsuperscript{473}Only Kaduna and Yobe vary the punishment in the case of sodomy with the wife, as here. Yobe: punishment as here. Kaduna: \textit{ta’azir}.

\textsuperscript{474}Gombe and Kaduna omit this explanation.

\textsuperscript{475}Kano and Katsina omit the offence of incest.

204
132. Whoever commits incest shall be punished:

(a) with caning of one hundred lashes if unmarried, and where the offender is a male shall also be liable to imprisonment for a term of not less than one year and not exceeding five years; or

136. Whoever commits the offence of bestiality shall be punished with caning of fifty lashes and in addition shall be sentenced to a term of imprisonment of six months.

Explanation:

Mere penetration is sufficient to constitute the carnal intercourse necessary to the offence of bestiality.

476 PC includes subsections (1) and (2) in one section, which also specifies the punishment. PC also includes an explanation: “In this section words expressing relation include relatives of the half blood and relatives whose relation is not traced through a lawful marriage.”

477 PC omits subsections (a) and (b), punishing all incest “with imprisonment for a term which may extend to seven years and shall also be liable to fine.”

478 Bauchi, Gombe, Jigawa, Kebbi, Sokoto, Yobe, and Zamfara omit the limitation of the punishment of imprisonment to males. All states make the term of imprisonment one year. Kebbi adds: “PROVE: Four trustworthy male witnesses to the act of incest.”

479 PC omits the separate offence of lesbianism, presumably including it under “Unnatural offences”: see note to Sodomy (Liwat) above.

480 Bauchi: “imprisonment which may extend to up to five years.” Kano and Katsina: stoning to death. Kaduna: ta’azir.

481 Bauchi, Jigawa, Katsina, Kebbi, Sokoto, Yobe and Zamfara include the following explanation: “The offence is committed by the unnatural fusion of the female sexual organs and/or by the use of natural or artificial means to stimulate or attain sexual satisfaction or excitement.”

482 PC omits the separate offence of bestiality, presumably including it under “Unnatural offences”: see note to Sodomy (Liwat) above.

530 The annotations mainly show variations between this law and its two immediate predecessors in Kano State: Cap. 23 of the 1991 Laws of Kano State, on Cinematograph (Censorship), and Cap. 24 on Cinematograph (Licensing). Both those older laws are repealed by this one, see §28, and the work of licensing and censorship is all given to the new Board established by this law. Part I of this law tracks the definition sections of the two earlier laws quite closely; Part III borrows heavily from the Cinematograph (Licensing) law; and Part IV borrows from the Cinematograph (Censorship) law, all as indicated in the notes to those parts. The other parts of this law, relating primarily to the new Board itself, are not in the earlier statutes. The earlier statutes are referred to in the following notes as Cap. 23 and Cap. 24, respectively.

KANO STATE CENSORSHIP FILM BOARD LAW 2001

A LAW TO ESTABLISH THE BOARD FOR THE REGULATION OF LICENSING AND CENSORSHIP OF CINEMATOGRAPHY FILM AND FOR THE SAFETY OF THE PUBLIC EXHIBITIONS AND FOR PURPOSES CONNECTED THEREWITH

BE IT ENACTED by the House of Assembly as follows:

PART I -- PRELIMINARY

1. This Law may be cited as the State Censorship [Film] Board Law 2001 and shall come into operation on 1st day of February, 2001.
2. In this Law, unless the context otherwise requires:
   "exhibition" means any exhibition of pictures or other optical effects produced by means of a cinematograph or other similar apparatus;
   "State" means Kano State of Nigeria;
   "Commissioner" means the State Commissioner charged with responsibility for Information, Internal Affairs, Youth, Sports and Culture;
   "mobile cinema" means any cinematograph or other similar projection apparatus which is operated in, on or from a vehicle or which is carried from place to place for the purpose of being used for occasional exhibitions;
   "Governor" means the Governor of Kano State of Nigeria;

531 No gazetted copy available; this text reproduces a spiral-bound copy of the law obtained from the Censorship Board itself.
532 Of the two main functions given to the Board – cinematography licensing and censorship of “films” (which per §2 include “pornography books and publications as may be prescribed by regulations”) – the first was formerly handled by the State Commissioner responsible for social welfare, under Cap. 24, the second by a Board of Film Censors appointed by the same Commissioner, under Cap. 23.
533 The statute seems to be of two minds about the name of the board it establishes: “State Censorship Film Board” is used in the title and in several sections; “State Censorship Board” is also used in several sections. We have inserted 'Film' in brackets in the latter sections.
534 The statute consistently uses ‘cinematography’ where it means ‘cinematograph’ – i.e. the projection apparatus. We have corrected this throughout.
535 Caps. 23 and 24: State Commissioner responsible for social welfare.
CHAPTER 3: SANITIZING SOCIETY

“Board” means the State Censorship Film Board;
“celluloid” includes substances containing nitrate solutions or other nitrate products;536
“cinematograph” includes any apparatus for the projection of enlarged images by any means on a screen or elsewhere;537
“film” means a film designed for use with a cinematograph (not being a film of eight millimetres or less in width) and includes film containing celluloid or other materials of an inflammable or dangerous nature and includes pornography books and publications as may be prescribed by regulations under this Law;538
“House of Assembly” means Kano State House of Assembly;
“occupier” with reference to premises includes any manager or any person who receives the rent of premises.539

539 This term defined in § 4(4)(c) of Cap. 23. §§2 of Caps. 23 and 24 both also define ‘premises’ to include buildings, lands, and (in Cap. 23) a mobile cinema.
540 Cap. 23: “The Commissioner may appoint a board of film censors to be called the Kano State Board of Film Censors in accordance with regulations made under section 7.” Cap. 23 then omits all of what is here contained in §§3(2) through 9, except as otherwise noted.
7. Without prejudice to section 31 of the Interpretation Law Cap. 65 (which \textit{inter alia} provides for the removal of an appointee by the person who appoints him) a member of the Board shall cease to hold office if:

a. on premises or in or from a mobile cinema, vehicle or vessel licensed in accordance with this Law; and

b. by means of a cinematograph or other similar projection apparatus licensed in accordance with this Law.

\textsuperscript{541} Compare Cap. 23 §4(2): “The Board may approve, or refuse to approve, the exhibition of any film and, when granting such approval, the Board may impose such conditions as it thinks fit upon the exhibition of the film in the State.”

\textsuperscript{542} §§10-15 reproduce §§3-8 of Cap. 24 almost word for word, except that the word ‘Board’ replaces the word ‘Commissioner’.

562 This provision was enacted by §4 of Bauchi State’s Sharia Penal Code (Amendment) Law 2001, signed by Governor Mu’azu on 29th June 2001, see Bauchi State of Nigeria Gazette No. 7 Vol. 26, 29th June 2001, Supplement Part B p. B23, and inserted into Bauchi State’s Sharia Penal Code as §376A.

563 W’ata = play, here, with various dangerous things (respectively snakes, hyenas, fire and knives), under the guise of protection by charms or other supernatural powers, for whatever the onlookers may be willing to donate. Crowds are frequently attracted; boka or “malams” ply their trade in charms, fortune-telling and traditional medicines; and thieves and pick-pockets operate. Wasan bori is more directly associated with the cult of spirit-possession: the devotee by incantations and turning in a circular dance achieves a state of possession in which he/she performs various feats before passing out. This is usually not for public consumption, but only for members or potential members of the cult.

564 An unsigned and undated copy of this bye-law was obtained from the Yobe State Religious Affairs Board, but with the indication of the Board that the law had been duly enacted.
